Building Belonging

Make Bold Moves™ Towards Success Through a Community of Belonging

This fast-paced era of AI, remote work, and high-tech change comes with an increasingly pressing question: How do we create and maintain healthy human connections within ourselves, our teams, and the world?

In a world of rising disengagement, decreased collaboration, and even polarization, our success hinges on developing a sense of belonging where we feel empowered to stand in acceptance, authenticity, and leadership with ourselves and others.

Using a powerful framework 32 years in the making, Sara empowers audiences to Make Bold Moves™ from a world of disconnect to connection, unsure-ity to loyalty, and silos to mission-driven teamwork through a community of belonging.

This presentation is perfect for any audience:

- Trying to create connections in their life or business and move forward with confidence and trust.
- Struggling with imposter syndrome and an inability to embrace their talents and leadership.
- Seeing increasing polarization or disengagement within their teams, but unsure how to foster greater teamwork and connection.

The audience will leave with:

- The freedom to move forward in acceptance, authenticity, and leadership, and the confidence to connect boldly with others.
- The motivation and skills to develop a sense of belonging within themselves, their teams, and others.
- Actionable strategies for building a collaborative, high-performing community of belonging no matter what challenges their teams face.
